The Great Captain

At first glance he was ugly, shambling, almost grotesque. Nature seemed determined to cast his countenance in a gaunt and caricaturing mould.

And then he realized how subtly Destiny had reshaped the pattern with touches of nobility and great saints. The writer saw him but once, and can no more put his portrait into words than artists and sculptors have caught the image in paint or marble.

His ill remembers how awesome it was to stand so near a man who could rise from the moment lot of a nation to captain its soul and conscience.

Here was the incarnation—the farthest expression of human possibility,—a peasant waif whom history places above emperors.

And one whose own boyhood confidence and faith caught sparks from Lincoln's pine knots, today renders reverent tribute to his memory.

COOLIDGE SURE OF FAVOR FOR PROPOSAL ON ARMS

Expectations as to Reception by Powers Declared Based on Reasonableness of Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—President Coolidge has every expectation of favorable consideration by the Washington naval treaty powers of his suggestion for a further extension of that treaty through a conference to be conducted at Geneva. The expectation is based, it was said today at the White House, upon the reasonableness of the American proposal and the fact that it proposes only to apply further a formula for naval limitations already worked out and accepted by the Washington treaty powers.

It was emphasized that President Coolidge does not know specifically what reply will be made by Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

He feels, however, that inasmuch as the suggestion has been received by the Geneva preparatory disarmament conference as to which branch of armament should first be taken up in an effort to formulate a comprehensive plan for reduction of air, land or sea forces, the American suggestion to proceed with naval limitation formula affords an escape.

PRESIDENT'S VIEW

If that process should be followed and the delegations of the Washington treaty signatories meeting at Geneva are successful in extending naval treaty agreements to cruisers, destroyers and submarines, President Coolidge feels that the disposition of this aspect of the armament problem would make it easier to deal with the other elements, particularly if naval armaments were considered as having a direct relation to the land and air armament questions.

The President's view was expressed in a letter to the British ambassador in Washington, which was sent to the British ambassador in Washington, which was sent to the British ambassador in Washington, which was sent to the British ambassador in Washington.

CORDIAL PRANKS

OTTAWA (Ont.) Feb. 11. (AP)—Cordial appreciation of the action of President Coolidge in inviting the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan to join the United States in a conference to limit naval armaments in extension of the Washington arms conference of 1921, was voiced today by Senator R. H. Sir John Dill, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons.

He characterized the naval limitation message of President Coolidge as a "fine piece of statesmanship" and expressed a desire "to prevent conflict among the nations of the world" and "to prevent the spread of the arms race." Sir John also expressed pleasure that the President had suggested Geneva as the seat for holding the proposed naval conference.

SENTIMENT OF PEOPLE

He lamented the fact that the United States is not a member of the League of Nations, but said this did not imply that the sentiment of the people of the United States with regard to war is not along the same lines as that of the people of Canada and other member nations of the League.

He urged the League to pass a resolution asking Canada to sign the protocol establishing the League of Nations, which would settle the dispute between the United States and Canada.

FAVORABLE REPLY

BY JAPAN PROSPECT

TOKYO, Feb. 11. (AP)—Rengo, the Japanese newspaper, learned officially today that the Japanese government already has decided to accept the proposal of President Coolidge suggesting a new conference for the reduction of naval armaments, and it is expected to reply to the President's message will be forwarded to Washington soon.

It was understood that Japan is having its acceptance on three pre-conditions, first that Foreign Minister Shidehara had expressed to the Diet Japan's intention of furthering international equitable disarmament in every way possible; second, Japan's financial and economic condition makes further disarmament most welcome as a relief from tax burdens; and third, Japan feels her international responsibilities make necessary a wholehearted co-operation with other powers for armament reduction.

It was understood that Japan, in its acceptance of the Coolidge proposal, would state that at present she has no plans or specifications for an armament reduction, feeling that such agreements and plans should be left to the naval experts of the various powers concerned.

Further, it is believed the attitude of the government in accepting unconditionally would be directly opposed by the sentiment of the Navy Department.

Some of the newspapers are antagonistic to a disarmament extension to a point under the 5-5-5 ratio. Officials were said to believe, however, that the acceptance would be approved by the Diet.

The Kokumin editorially opposes application of the 5-5-5 ratio, declaring if such a plan were effective Japan's national defense would become meaningless.

"We might just as well scrap our whole navy and bow down to Great Britain and America if we accept such a proposal," says the Kokumin.

The paper further declares Japan does not desire to reduce her armaments, but she does not desire to be a party to a disarmament conference which would be a step toward general comprehensive disarmament.

The Asahi welcomes the spirit of the proposal to reduce naval armament, because any such plan helps to promote peace and reduce national expenditures. But the newspaper believes the removal of causes of war is of more importance than reduction of armaments.

WAVE OF APPROVAL

FROM BRITISH PRESS

LONDON, Feb. 11. (AP)—President Coolidge's suggestion of further limitation of naval armament evoked in the British press a wave of approval.

LONGWORTH TO RESCUE CHANCE FOR RIVER BILL BRIGHTENS

Speaker Declares Boulder Plan Has Right to be Voted on in House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—Prospects for House action this session on the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon dam bill brightened today with announcement by Speaker Longworth that he feels the measure deserves its day in court.

He told a group of its supporters who called at his office that he will "be glad to have this bill considered at a reasonably early date." The Speaker added, however, that he has no authority to give the measure the legislative right of way.

"I think that under the circumstances," he declared, "and in view of the very large section which will be affected, that this bill ought to be considered before Congress adjourns."

The delegation that waited upon the Speaker included members from the Western States that have ratified the Colorado River compact and also Representatives Dickinson of Iowa, one of the farm leaders in Congress; McLaughlin, Nebraska; Knutson, Minnesota; Summers, Washington; and Representatives of Missouri, Wisconsin, and Illinois.

UTAH MAY RESCIND

Chairman Smith of the Irrigation Committee, which reported the bill, told the Speaker that the recent withdrawal of Utah from the compact was one of the chief reasons why the Rules Committee had not granted preferred status. He had received a letter from Gov. Dorn of Utah yesterday, he said, indicating the state may rescind its action and again ratify the compact.

Gov. Dorn was quoted by Smith as saying that the chief objection of his state to the compact was the adoption of the Colton amendment, designed to put water distribution features under the terms of the compact. This amendment, Smith added, will be accepted by supporters of the bill.

Mr. Smith told Mr. Longworth that as speaker he is responsible for the receiving proper consideration and that in view of four years' work on the Boulder dam, the committee believed it is entitled to have it brought before the House, having approved it by a 15-3 vote.

CHANCE TO VOTE ASKED

He also said that the Utah Governor has emphasized that his state is not opposed to the power features of the measure.

Representative Curry, Republican, California, said that all the western states desire an opportunity to vote on the measure if the House amends it, he added, "we must abide by the decision of the majority, but what we ask is a chance."

Speaker Longworth said he had received a letter, the author of which did not state his name, requesting consideration of the bill now that Utah has withdrawn from the compact.

Representative Swing, Republican, California, coauthor of the measure, replied that the other five states can amend with the proposed development.

EXCHANGE OF VIEWS

ROME, Feb. 11. (AP)—It is understood in Rome that an exchange of views on President Coolidge's naval armament proposal will be held by Italy with England and France, and probably Japan.

Premier Mussolini is said to have directed his cabinet to study the proposal, but it is confidently predicted that Great Britain will not stand in the way of the application of the 5-5-5 ratio of naval armament, decided on at Washington, to all phases of naval armaments.

ITALY MAY SEEK

EXCHANGE OF VIEWS

ROME, Feb. 11. (AP)—It is understood in Rome that an exchange of views on President Coolidge's naval armament proposal will be held by Italy with England and France, and probably Japan.

ARMY HOPES FOR

GERMAN PARTICIPATION

BERLIN, Feb. 11. (AP)—President Coolidge is justified in losing faith in the Geneva Disarmament Conference, Dr. William Cuno, former Chancellor, told the Associated Press today.

Dr. Cuno, who is director of the Hamburg-American Steamship Line and is in close touch with the German navy, which he has believed to share his views, declared the Geneva conference, despite its duration and strenuous efforts, had failed to achieve practical results.

"Although the Coolidge memorandum does not include an invitation to Germany to participate in the new naval disarmament conference," said Dr. Cuno, "Germany's maritime interests and her extraordinary dependence on sea are such that anything concerning the redistribution of maritime powers evokes her greatest interest."

Dr. Cuno expressed hope that, consequently, not only the signatories of the Washington agreements would participate in the proposed conference but also other maritime states, including Germany.

"That America, the mightiest world power, capable of arming far beyond the possibilities of others, has proposed through President Coolidge's memorandum the renunciation of the gigantic naval ambitions through which she might force her will upon others and carry on an imperialistic policy of the greatest magnitude, is bound to create a deep impression throughout the world," said the former Chancellor. "I am convinced that Germany would be able to co-operate with this ideal just as advantageously as she has done in the past."

"President Coolidge's initiative clearly indicates: First, that he is determined to disarm, and second, that he is not confident that results will be attained through the Geneva conference."

"One who has carefully and without prejudice followed the Geneva negotiations is likely to cavil at the President for not expecting much from Geneva methods."

MILITARY EXPERT HERE

PROTESTS CONFERENCE

Grassers Schornstheimer, former editor of Current History and of the New York Herald, who is visiting here, yesterday wired a protest to Senator Johnson against the proposed naval limitations conference. He based this upon the declaration that the naval strength of the United States is now actually much less than it appears on paper and that it is further reduced in effect by the fact that it is required to operate on three ocean fronts.

He declared that the principle established by the Washington conference has been violated by all the nations participating except the United States, and that the result of another conference will be to further weaken our relative position.

REDLANDS, Feb. 11.—The burden of an appeal against the verdict of Judge Charles O. The father wrote that friends prevailed on him to return to California where he will trip to California where he will

Again! The Penalty of Leadership

UNION-ETHYL Gasoline, like all other products that have won the public's favor in a dominating way, must bear the penalty of leadership.

That is to be expected because leadership invariably involves the winning of trade in that line from others.

These shifts are the inevitable marks of progress and no power can stop them.

Union-Ethyl is better than any ordinary gasoline that we or any other makers have produced in the West.

This is not because of any fault in anyone's good product, but due to the fact that the genuine Ethyl fluid adds certain qualities to gasoline that no other fuel can have without it—ours or any other maker's best.

The results of these qualities are: Elimination of all "knocking;" faster pick-up; greater speed with less vibration; smoother and more powerful hill-climbing abilities, and more flexibility in traffic than any other motor fuel has ever demonstrated before.

Such superiorities, improvements and betterments are simply prizes that the Natural Laws of Science award in recognition of progressive vision coupled with painstaking research and pioneering effort.

Ten years were given to exhaustive study and experimentation by able scientists and 35,000 tests were made in one of the largest automotive laboratories in the world before the Ethyl fluid was finally perfected.

Thus its leadership was earned, through leadership in vision and effort. Such achievements are never the result of over-night magic.

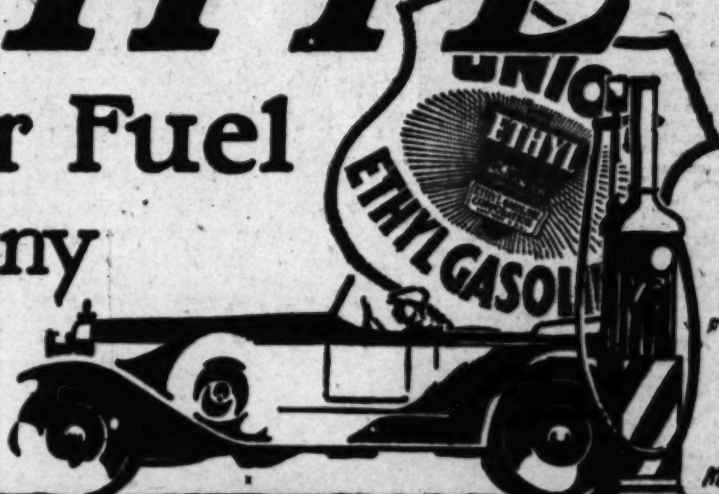

Neither men nor products rise quickly without a sound foundation.

If you analyze their success, you invariably find that you must go far back to discover the beginnings from which they worked forward, step by step—a long and tedious journey, which you all agree deserves the leadership in the end.

NOTEBOOKS TAKE PLACE OF RAIDERS

New York Shows, Asserted Indecent, Reopen After Granting of Injunctions

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (AP)—The quondam raiders of the city of New York today took the place of the policeman and his stick in the purifying crusade today directed at Broadway's assertedly indecent stage performances. The notebooks, which have been the subject of police raids for several months, are now being studied by the police department in its present quandary. The notebooks contain lists of names of persons who are believed to be plain clothes "observers" at several musical shows last night to be possible grounds for more midnight raids. The quondam raiders, they added, over the issuance of injunctions against raiding again three other shows, which, as soon as the injunctions were obtained, burst forth anew today with long waiting lists of would-be ticket buyers. Raids on night clubs, revues and musical comedies scheduled for last night failed to materialize. One group of night club entertainers appeared today at City Hall and asked Mayor McKee to send his company around. Producers of revues smiled today at prospects of raids because of asserted nuptial, announcing "nuptial is out of date since last season."

HUGHES IN TRIBUTE TO JUDICIARY

Lauds Courts of First Instance at Opening of New York Justice Hall

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (AP)—The administration of justice to the courts of first instance promises more for security and well being than the activities of legislatures and executives, Charles E. Hughes said today at the dedication of New York's new $23,000,000 county courthouse. The structure, located at Centre and Pearl streets on the Lower East Side, is situated in the $11,800,000 Civic Center site and will be surrounded with other buildings to be erected as part of the New York City Center. The former United States Supreme Court Justice paid a tribute to the judges who will use the new Court house as their official home. "The task would defeat its own purpose if it were performed with an eye to favor," he said. "They are the living proof of the capacity of men of special ability and training to live in the midst of passion and tumult and to show unselfish devotion to the ideals and principles of the law." Mr. Hughes remarked on the function of the courts of first instance, saying that they "touched the people in a direct and influential fashion as higher courts cannot." "They must vividly represent to us great community our success in giving to every man his due," he said.

Co-eds Coached in Amenities of Public Smoking

BENKLEY, Feb. 11. (AP)—Smoking among co-eds at the University of California is a "matter of courtesy" and the problem up for solution is how smokers may indulge without annoying those who dislike smoking. Lucy Stebbins, dean of women at the university, decided the status of the cigarette in a formal statement to the student body, in which she declared that smoking is not a question of courtesy or civility. "Smokers and nonsmokers stand themselves together in the university community," the statement continued. "How shall the rights and privileges of both be harmonized, and what courtesy shall dictate, the when and where are matters that must be considered." A number of the sororities have recently lifted the ban on "discreet" smoking in their houses.

SPECIMENS FOR SCIENCE WANE

Encroaching Civilization Asserted Cause

Smithsonian Governors Told Few Sources Left

Speaker Says But Fifty Years Remain for Search

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—Scientists already are within fifty years of the day when their laboratories may be closed by the encroachments of civilization upon the areas which have thus far yielded their natural specimens, according to Dr. Charles G. Abbot, acting secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. The prophecy was made today before an audience uniting the history of science—a gathering of high government officials, scholars, educators and civic leaders assembled in the first meeting since 1878 of the governing establishment of the institution. In the audience, or at round tables devoted to the discussion of the future program of the historic citadel of American research, were President Coolidge, Vice-President Dawes, Chief Justice Taft, several cabinet members, senators and representatives and scores of leaders in science, civic enterprise, industry and finance.

NEED TO BROADEN

From the speakers came repeated emphasis upon the necessity for broadening the program of the institution to keep it abreast of its opportunities in the co-ordinating factor and dynamo of scientific research in the United States. Combined with Dr. Abbot's urgent admonition for intensified activity was a plea for the "support of the nation" in the expanded program of the institution. "In the study of American ethnology," Dr. Abbot said, "the institution has done more than any other agency. At the present moment the encroachments of the white man are obliterating forever the remains of Indian civilization in America. The next few years offer the last opportunities to learn the story of America's native tribes."

APPLIES TO ANIMALS

"The same is true of the animal and plant life of the world. Because of the encroachments of agriculture and other activities, hundreds of thousands of specimens have disappeared—more must disappear. "The next fifty years will offer the last opportunities to obtain many forms of nature to preserve for the information and study of future generations." The joint responsibility of government and citizenry for maintenance of the institution was stressed by several speakers among whom were Chief Justice Taft, chancellor of the institution's board of regents, Dwight W. Morrow, financier; Senator Smoot of Utah; Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institution; George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation; Dr. W. W. Campbell, president of the University of California; and Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History.

(By a Times Staff Correspondent). LONG BEACH, Feb. 11.—The suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Chase against the local school authorities for their action in barring members of high-school fraternities from interscholastic athletics was dropped today. The case was on the calendar in Superior Court here. A notice of dismissal, filed in Los Angeles, was presented. The action was directed against the Long Beach Board of Education and officials of Woodrow Wilson High School. It sought to restrain enforcement of a rule based on an order of the California Interscholastic Federation requiring that students desiring to engage in interscholastic athletics file before January 1, last, a statement that they had given up fraternity membership. The plaintiffs are the parents of Ted Chase, high school student, who, it is said, failed to file such a statement.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. The signing was done in her private office at 129 Front street, where the old-fashioned American chair that Stephen Allen took home from the City Hall after he ceased being Mayor is unaccountably in harmony with the Italian setting in which Mrs. MacDougall chooses to work as an administrator as well as serve tea.

The lease gave Mrs. MacDougall the right to convert the entire ground floor, basement and mezzanine at 80 West Fifty-Seventh street, into the likeness of Doge's Palace, or the palace of the Alhambra or the Rathaus of Rotterdam, or whatever pleases her fancy, and the paid-for privilege of serving tea, coffee and what not, therein.

BUDGETS OF GAS UTILITIES HEAVY

Four in Southern California to Spend $10,000,000

West Coast Companies' Total Given at $20,000,000

Programs Seen as Indicative of Continued Prosperity

To provide for the continued growth of Los Angeles and Southern California, the four gas utilities now serving this area have announced 1927 budgets calling for the aggregate expenditure of approximately $20,000,000 for extensions and additions to manufacturing and distributing gas service facilities.

Returns from a questionnaire sent to gas utilities in the eleven Western States by the Pacific Gas Association indicate that 1927 will be a period of continued prosperity for this industry in the West. To meet this situation a number of important projects are under way and western gas companies will continue in 1927 in the neighborhood of $20,000,000 for this purpose.

Of the $20,000,000 to be expended in 1927, approximately $18,000,000 will be spent by California corporations and the bulk of this by utilities serving the various sections of Southern California, principally Los Angeles.

LARGEST BUDGET

The largest budget announced is that of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, calling for the expenditure of $4,500,000 for betterments. This appropriation, however, includes expenditures for electric service as well as gas.

The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has provided $3,500,000 for extensions and betterments to its gas service facilities, and the Southern California Gas Company has announced its 1927 budget as $1,700,000. The Southern California Gas Company is expected to spend in the neighborhood of $4,000,000, the amount expended in 1926. The 1927 budget of the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company totaled $800,000 for gas improvements.

Other appropriations made by the major utilities for 1927 additions to gas service facilities are: Portland Gas and Coke Company, $1,000,000; Denver, Colo., $1,000,000. The recently organized Ventura Fuel Company has under way its $1,000,000 transmission line from Ventura to Los Angeles.

OUTPUT SETS MARK

Despite the unusually mild winter temperatures in the early months of 1926, which affected gas sales adversely, the colder weather in December brought the greatest gas output on record for most gas companies and was responsible for a general larger demand for 1926 over 1925.

New developments to be looked for in 1927 are the introduction of direct refrigeration, which are now on production by several of the larger manufacturers; the sale of gas for domestic use, and a continued emphasis in house heating, in which Pacific Coast gas companies have always been leaders. The use of gas for firing boilers, for oil well drilling, laundries, dairies, and in the generation of steam for power, is increasing.

Los Angeles is the greatest gas-consuming city in the United States, its consumption even surpassing that of New York City.

COMBINE HARVESTER REAPS COTTON CROP

IMPROVED DEVICE OF TEXAS GROWER OPERATES AT NOMINAL COST

LITTLEFIELD (Tex.) Feb. 11. (Exclusively)—Picking cotton by means of a wheel combine machine, to which is attached equipment for gathering the open and unopen bolls, has been going on for the last few weeks upon the 10,000-acre farm of W. B. Newsome, situated fifteen miles west of Littlefield. The machine used in cutting the crop will not be finished until some time in March. The average production is more than one-half bale to the acre, according to Mr. Newsome.

The record of averaging more than one-half bale to the acre would not mean much so far as financial returns are concerned when the low price of cotton is considered if it had to pay the usual cost of harvesting. Mr. Newsome said: "But I overcame the high cost of harvesting by improving a wheel combine, one of those huge machines that cut and thresh the wheat all at the same time, and my crop is being gathered by this machine. The machine used in cutting the crop will not be finished until some time in March. The average production is more than one-half bale to the acre, according to Mr. Newsome."

Dun Reports Competition in Trade as Keen

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (P.)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

The movement of commodity prices remains the outstanding phase of the business situation, having overhauled other trends since the new year opened. Still lower levels have been reached by various articles, there being a continued excess of declines, and both raw materials and manufactured products have been affected.

Sharper competition for orders is a feature commented upon more generally, yet it is significant that the price making has been mainly gradual, and signs of resistance to further concessions are beginning to appear in some markets. This condition is reflected in Dun's current list of wholesale quotations, which shows a decided narrowing of the margin of reductions over advances.

Even with additional yielding in pig iron and in steel, there are indications now of approaching stability in those lines, while copper has recovered somewhat, and more firmness is developing in textiles. Weekly bank clearings $5,953,564, a decrease of one-half of 1 per cent from last year.

NEW RECORD FOR EDISON

Earnings for Common Forecast at 11 Per Cent; Non-Operating Profit From Oil Builds Reserve

BY HABLE E. CROW

Within a few days the Southern California Edison Company, if semi-official reports current in brokerage circles are correct, will issue its 1926 report showing the best earnings in the history of this premier California utility. Even though operating expenses increased because of low water the gross and net from operations surged up to new high levels in reductions of losses in new business. The amount available for the common stock also exceeded the figure reported for 1925, although the outstanding preferred shares were materially increasing during the year.

BUSINESS IN ARIZONA AT GOOD LEVEL

Tone of Survey Made by Industrial Congress of State Optimistic

PHOENIX, Feb. 11. (Exclusive)—According to the Arizona Industrial Congress report, business within the State is starting into the new year on a good level, with basic industries proceeding as usual and with new industries and tourist travel making up for reduced crop returns. Agriculture is turning from cotton to greater diversification of crops and to dairying.

Return to agriculture within the State, despite the cotton slump, are estimated at about $30,000,000 for the year, helped by the higher value of the long-wispie acreage in the Salt River Valley. Cotton ginning is about ended, with a report on January 29 of 54,487 bales in the State. Winter lettuce shipments have amounted to 2500 carloads from the Salt River Valley, 520 from Yuma and 100 from the Casa Grande district. The Salt River Valley spring wheat crop of 8000 acres is in excellent shape.

Range conditions are considered good. Shipments of wool for the year, mainly to California, aggregated about $28,000,000. In addition to 110,000 pounds of mohair, in all production value was about $13,000,000. On the range, according to governmental estimates, there are about $2,000,000 of stock, valued at $25,000,000. Stock markets marked about 300,000 lambs, 5,500,000 pounds of wool, and 1,000,000 pounds of mohair, in all value about $17,800,000.

Mining production in 1926 fell about $100,000,000 from the year before. Decreased prices for product, as the larger mines are working steadily, and the smaller ones are closing, in January exceeded the figures of a year ago, and of the previous month.

SAFETY ZONES FOR DOLLARS

Practical Ways of Investing in Home Ownership, Savings Accounts, Life Insurance, and Dependable Investment Securities

XLI.—THE PRINCIPLE OF DIVERSIFICATION

The most logical and important thing in investing, and the one most commonly disregarded is the principle of diversification. There is no such thing as absolute safety in any investment. Since that is undeniably true every investor should be reminded of the fact that diversification is the only way to secure safety in investment. It is neither sensible nor necessary to put all one's eggs in one basket. It is wise to put all one's savings into securities representing one kind of business, and not to diversify into different kinds of investments. It is neither sensible nor necessary to put all one's eggs in one basket. It is wise to put all one's savings into securities representing one kind of business, and not to diversify into different kinds of investments.

The one complete rule of diversification is that the investor should keep in mind that diversification is never a substitute for caution and good judgment. If investments are carefully diversified, a good list of securities will be made better. No manner of diversification, however, can make inferior securities profitable. To obtain maximum results in investing the investor must first analyze security values in the light of his own needs, and then properly diversify his purchases so that his capital and requirements will be fully protected.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (Exclusive)—All that William Z. Ripley, financial editor, said in his famous Atlantic Monthly articles and more will be found in a new book entitled "Main Street and Wall Street," published today. It needs scarcely be said that the new essays on corporate financing included in the volume breathe the same spirit of disconcert with things as they are that permeated the old articles now reprinted.

WOOL MART STRONG IN SOUTHWEST

Foreign Prices Firm and Against Buyer; Low Grade More in Limelight

BOSTON, Feb. 11. (P.)—The Commercial Bulletin says: "The wool market is strong in the southwest. Foreign prices are firm and against the buyer very slightly, with good clearances being made. American buyers are buying more freely abroad."

"In the West, contracting has spread out more widely and more buyers have been in the field with prices slightly against the buyer. Fully 20,000,000 pounds are estimated to be in the hands of buyers, mostly of late in the range of 30-35 cents to the grower, according to the wool, except in Texas where the wool is selling at 35-40 cents. Prices there are not so low for the week, however."

THE INVESTOR

New York Title and Mortgage Stock Yields Above Average for Class.

BY RALPH SEYMOUR

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Although bank, trust company and other so-called institutional shares have proved an unusually profitable investment, one which appears to be the largest concern of its kind in the somewhat out of line in New York Title and Mortgage stock today. Based on the increased dividend rate paid in the last quarter of 1926, this stock is selling currently to yield about 8.5 per cent, or a present price of about $450 a share is only slightly above ten times its earning power, as indicated by 1926 returns.

New York Title and Mortgage is a United States corporation, incorporated by first mortgages under New York State Insurance Department supervision. Both items are limited by law to amounts not exceeding 60-70 per cent of the appraised value of the property serving as security. The appraised in each case being made by the company's own organization.

Guaranteed mortgages and certificates outstanding as of December 31, 1926, amounted to $98,979,818, or to but 9.6 times its capital, surplus and undivided profits, compared with $40,373,711 at the close of 1917.

Capital, surplus and undivided profits at the end of last year amounted to $41,581,990, contrasted with $3,408,358 on December 31, 1917, while earnings during the same period grew from $5.50 a share to $44.60.

In addition to its regular business, New York Title is assuming prominence in the general banking field through its 100 per cent ownership of the American Trust Company, which was founded in 1913.

Directors of the mortgage company include a number of the most prominent financiers in the country. Lewis L. Clarke, chairman of the executive committee of the American Exchange Trust Company; James C. Brady, trustee of the Central Union Trust Company; W. A. Harrison of W. A. Harrison & Co., Inc.; and Harry M. Kayser of Kayser & Co., Inc. are among those who might be mentioned in this connection.

DRY OF LINCOLN

BY JENNIE VAN ALLEN

... out of many precious stones and colors into a tapestry, so have I made a man who have honored the memory of the Emancipator. Let me give to the world a memorial more than a mosaic, something that will live.

... born in the minds of many men. The tongues of many orators. They were men who long ago molded to dust, but the great melting pot where they met and fused into a new and better race.

Lincoln the Leader
Neverfalling kind and courteous, and with service to others always his one aim in life, Abraham Lincoln set a splendid example for all of us to follow. Let us, therefore, pause today in our work to pay a tribute to the great emancipator.
